2012

Biography

Will the world really end on DECEMBER 21ST, 2012? According to the Mayan Calender and Nostradamus predictions, it will!? The band 2012 believes that if the world is going to end, then the people on this planet will be the cause. The message of the band's music is basically, if you want to make the world a better place, then take a look at yourself, and make a change. Oh wait a second, that was Mike Jackson. Anyway, look at what the world is coming to, and the skewed perceptions of each new generation. When you really look at the way people think and act, doomsday might actually already be here.

Primary Genre: Rock Secondary Genre: Metal

Do you want to experience the best live performance you'll ever live to witness? That is the band 2012's goal to accomplish. One day we want to be labeled as the most energetic/theatrical band out there while maintaining that that status as well

2012 has a purpose besides just playing music. They want to inspire and show the difference between right and wrong by recording memorable records and by putting on the MOST ENERGETIC rockin' show anyone will ever witness. They put raw emotion and honesty into each and every one of their songs. Although this might offend some people, it's how they perceive the world around them. The debut album "HUMAN CONFUZION", is set for a December release through Rated Z Recordz. It was recorded and produced by 2 time gold record producer Johnny Z. The band consists of five Vegas determined musicians, r0ckg0d (vocals), Suitor (vocals), Sir Strange (guitar), Dickzilla (drums), and T.Rox (bass). Although the band has only been together for 4 months, the collaboration with Johnny Z and aggressive attitude towards the music, has given the band 2012, a clear view of a promising future. Now it's up to Human beings to comprehend what is being said in every song created by the band 2012. Only then, will we all move forward and prosper into a better tomorrow understanding how to control our human qualities, we all possess.
