The Red Jane show Biography

The Red Jane Show, as seen on Channel 7 from January-March 2009, have spent the recent months developing an exhilarating visual show, in conjunction with recordings, video's, regular live performances and a growing Melbourne following. The explosive theatrical, musical act consists of two males and two females, a formula believed to be most beneficial in fulfilling the bands vision's.

The talent in this group is indescribable – led by lead Vocalist Daniel Agius who is capable of singing, Drumming and playing Keyboards at the one time.

4 part vocal harmonies, dominant keyboards, guitars, and powerful drums in a tight rhythm section provide the ingredients in creating The Red Jane Show's fresh and unique sound, whilst a well-developed image, synchronized choreography, a pre-programmed lighting display and multiple LCD screens with creative animations combine to form the visual aspect of the spectacular rock show envisioned in 2008.

The Red Jane Show made the Semi-Finals of the hit Channel 7 program Australia's Got Talent in 2009, performing in front of over 1.6 million viewers on two separate occasions, as well as being included in many of the show's promotional activities. The Red Jane Show have played original shows at venues such as The Espy, The Hifi Bar, The Evelyn, Cherry Bar, Revolver & The National Theatre as well as performing from Bendigo to Frankston to Geelong to Ferntree Gully with bands such as You Am I, Electric Mary, Darryl Braithwaite and the original singer of AC/DC, Dave Evans. They were also invited to perform at annual 'The Tamworth Music Festival' in NSW for 2010 after winning a performance competition.
